

Attention: AML Training

All agents that are being contracted with American Amicable must complete an Anti Money Laundering Training Course (AML). If you have already taken one then you need to send a copy of your completion certificate in with your contracting paperwork. If you have not taken the training or you do not have a certificate of completion then you will need to take it through American Amicable. The next page is instructions on how to log in and take the training. Once you have completed the training you will need to print off something that says it was completed and send it in with your contracting paperwork. If you have any questions you can contact me at the number below. Thank you.
